The announcement of Admiral Mayo's return, as given out by Secretary Daniels, is as follows:

"Admiral H. T. Mayo, U. S. N., and his staff have returned from England. The purpose of the visit of Admiral Mayo to England was to permit him in conference with the other officials of the Allied navies to become intimate in every detail with the situation as it is at present, what had been done before, and to discuss the plans for the future. officials of the Allied navies to be-come intimate in every detail with the situation as it is at present, what had been done before, and to discuss the plans for the future. The British Admiralty extended every courtesy and every facility to promote the success of this mission. Admiral Mayo will proceed immediately to Washington and will then make a full report to the Secretary of the 'Admiral Mayo visited the English fleet and our own forces in British and French waters in order that he might familiarize himself with the conditions under which the Allied forces are operating."
